What's New for January 4, 2018

Hi wisconsin.com,

I hope you had a great New Year celebration. We wish you, your family and friends a great 2018! We spent the last few days of 2017 and the first day of 2018 in Door County with friends. We are excited about 2018 and wisconsin.com! We have plans for many new features, lots of new content and more! This week we are starting 2018 with some new content on wisconsin.com.

Wisconsin Brandy Old-Fashioneds!

We have a new page on wisconsin.com about one of Wisconsin's traditions, the Brandy Old-Fashioned. We are expanding our Supper Club section and a page on Old-Fashioneds was a natural fit. Wisconsin loves Brandy. Korbel Brandy ships about one third of their Brandy production to Wisconsin! The Brandy Old-Fashioned is a tradition of Wisconsin Supper Clubs and Wisconsinites in general. We have information on the drink, some history and a recipe to make the Wisconsin Brandy Old-Fashioneds. Check out our Wisconsin Brandy Old-Fashioneds page by clicking HERE!

Wisconsin Events

To us, January marks the start of Wisconsin cabin fever. The holidays are done, gifts returned, parties done, and Spring looks to be a long, long way off. But, there are plenty of activities also starting in Wisconsin in January and February. There are many ice-fishing events including the February Sturgeon Spectacular in Fond du Lac Wisconsin. Check out their Website for a schedule. The Badger State Winter Games starts January 20th in Wausau. That is something everyone can compete in! Their Website has all the information. Lake Geneva has their Winterfest starting January 31st. This event includes the US National Snow Sculpting Competition along with all of their other activities. Check out their Website for more information.
