What's New for January 11, 2018

Hi wisconsin.com,

We have many new features planned for 2018. We will be giving you heads up for the new features in this newsletter. We are excited about 2018 and our plans.

Last week's newsletter featured a short feature on one of Wisconsin's traditions, the Brandy Old-Fashioned. This week we are continuing down the same path with a feature on another great Wisconsin tradition, the Wisconsin Supper Club. I grew up in a Wisconsin Supper Club my parents owned. My mother did the cooking and my father was the main bartender. I worked in every position of the supper club from dishwasher to bartender. Because of that early life, I have always had a soft spot for Wisconsin Supper Clubs.

Wisconsin Supper Clubs

Supper Clubs did not start in Wisconsin, but were started by a Milwaukeee native Lawrence Frank in Beverly Hills, California. Today most supper clubs are located in the Midwest with Wisconsin being a major supper club player. Wisconsin supper clubs are generally located in rural areas around small Wisconsin towns. Wisconsin Supper Clubs are another tradition, much like Brandy Old-Fashioneds. They are not only a place for great food and cocktails, but also a social center. If you are a local, your friends and neighbors will be regulars, too, at the local supper club.

We have a section of wisconsin.com that is devoted to Wisconsin Supper Clubs. We have some information about Wisconsin Supper Clubs and a directory of Wisconsin Supper Clubs that is arranged by Wisconsin County. We will also be featuring select Wisconsin Supper Clubs. You can check out our Wisconsin Supper Club section HERE.

Wisconsin February Events

We know January is not yet done, but we want to look forward to February for a few Wisconsin Events. First is one of our favorites of the long Wisconsin Winter, the February 9-11, 2018 Wisconsin Public Television's Garden Expo held in the Exhibition Hall, Alliant Energy Center located in Madison Wisconsin. This is not only an event for the home gardener, but for anyone wanting to get out of the house and who is looking forward to Spring! The weekend is filled with seminars and exhibitors fill the center with not only plenty of garden items, garden art, food and much more for you to purchase, but also the center is filled with live flowers and other plants. You leave feeling Spring is just around the corner. Check out their Website for more information.

There are plenty of February Winter festivals and events in Wisconsin. Starting the first weekend of February with the Snowflake Ski Jumping Tournament in Westby February 2 & 3. They have competitors from many different countries along with other entertainment. See their Website for more information. This same weekend has the Boulder Junction Frozen Tozen Winter Fest that has a ice fishing tournament and other Mardi Gras themed activities. Their Website has more information.

The next weekend finds the US Adult Pond Hockey Championship in Eagle River with over 200 teams! It is sanctioned by USA Hockey. For more information, see their Website. The same weekend has the Winter Carnival at Luck Wisconsin with plenty of activities including a parade, a dance, ice fishing and more. Check out their Website.

The weekend of February 17 & 18 has the Cedarburg Winter Festival with many activities including wine tasting, ice carving, chili contest, a parade, live music and a pancake breakfast. Their Website had more information

The last weekend in February has two great events. The American Birkebeiner Cross-Country Ski Event in Hayward is North America's largest cross-country events. Even if you cannot ski the race, it is worth watching the athletes! See their Website for more information. The same week has the Bald Eagle Appreciation Days in Prairie du Chien with many displays and exhibits, outdoor viewing of bald eagles and much more. See their Website.
